Readygrad supports students and host companies at every step of the way to ensure every placement is successful:

- 1 We ensure that students complete their remote operating environment checklist
- 2 We match students to the right internship or project opportunities
- 3 We agree learning objectives with the student & host mentor
- 4 We set regular touchpoints with interns to ensure learning objectives are being met
- 5 We intervene with the host and student to resolve any issues

As a part of my Master's degree in Civil Engineering, which I pursued at CQ University (CQU), I had to complete an Internship Work Experience unit. For this purpose, my placement provider nominated by CQU was Readygrad.

From the very first day, Readygrad helped me to develop self-confidence and guided me through my internship journey. I had the opportunity to fine-tune my resume, and get the skills to perform well at host company interviews, which helped me get a 12 week placement with one of Australia's leading construction company – Winslow Constructors.

Before joining the host organization, the ReadyGrad team carried out the induction at the university to prepare interns on workplace behavior best practices and how to maintain proper attitude at work. Readygrad was in constant contact with me throughout my internship, and guided me through the experience ensuring things were going well in the host company and that I had all the support needed at all the times.

I had a wonderful experience working with Winslow Constructors. This journey of 12 weeks taught me the real engineering practice, how to work in an Australian business environment, and how to put engineering theoretical knowledge into practice. I developed better communication skills and how to interact with other team members. I also improved time management skills and organizational capability.

I am very happy and satisfied with the placement opportunity I undertook at Winslow. My sincere gratitude to CQUniversity and the ReadyGrad team for providing me with such an amazing placement.
